3) As the university does the best comfort to you by online class, it does not mean that you will study by all your comfortable selections. This leads to some rules, regulations and guidelines for our class to provide you with the most effective online classroom as described follows:

- ✎ Please be punctual for the class.
- ✎ In order to get the attendance check, you are requested to TURN ON THE CAMERA all the time while you are studying in the class except the breaktime. For ones who cannot turn on the camera, in terms of security and privacy for other classmates and me - the teacher, you will not be allowed to participate in class.
- ✎ DO NOT DO OTHER ACTIVITIES while studying such as driving, working, taking a trip, or even studying in the car. If these happens, you will not be allowed to attend the online class. Please be reminded that I am NOT a Youtuber, Tiktoker, or conten creator; however, I am a lecturer - a teacher. That is, you must prepare yourselves as if you were studying onsite at the university. Please put yourself at a study station where you can fully pay your attention to the lessons and our class participation. This refers to the good manners and the respect that we, a teacher, and all classmates, can contribute to our class. Please be reminded that we study for thriving and just passing the course.

✎ If you are not ready to study with any reasons such as health conditions, family conditions, work conditions, or other circumstances, you are allowed to be absent not more than three times (in accordance with 80% of class attendance). If needed, please do not hesitate to inform or ask the instructor or Language Center's program coordinator.

Take the best care of yourself.

I wish you a blissful month of motherly love.

Prepare and set your goals of this month.

Go for it. Do it!

I'm looking forward to seeing you.

Best,
Ajarn Martin (Ekamorn Iamsirirak, PhD)
